A hand-drawn wireframe of a sign-in page. The page is enclosed in a large rectangular border. On the left side, there is a vertical column containing a box labeled "LOGO" at the top and the text "Welcome back" below it. On the right side, there is a vertical column containing a dropdown menu labeled "University" with a downward arrow, followed by an input field labeled "Enter email", and another input field labeled "Password". At the bottom right of the right column, there are two links: "Sign up" and "Recover password".
